6. Voice from Participants

Timor-Leste, Student

The most important thing I would like to share once I return to my home country is : Japanese custom. Although Japan is a developed country in the world, the Japanese people are maintaining and promoting their tradition from time to time. Japanese people are famous with punctuality and respectful. They are not only respect to the people but also respect to the law and environment. These are unique in Asian countries. For the reason that, mostly the Asian countries that I visited are not really comply with rules and the law in the country itself. Therefore, these are really helpful to share my learning to community / organization / country I belong to, to let them know and understand about respect to people, law and environment as part of support to develop our country.

Thailand, Student

When I go back to my country, I will share all my knowledges that I experienced in Japan. Everything I saw in Japan such as toilet, roads, and cities are really modernized and beautiful. Japan has many new modern advanced technologies. When I arrive my home country, I will also retell them the stories of atomic –bomb told by a story teller in Hiroshima Peace Memorial Museum. Because Japan is the country that was suffered many serious results of atomic bomb. I will tell them the history of Japan in World War II. I will let them know how peace is important for all of us. I am sure PEACE is the most essential thing to create a better world.

Vietnam, Student

After coming back from Japan and Jenesys program, I myself got much experience. Japan has got the culture is not only modern but they also keep the traditional cultures on the next generations. One of the most impressive places, I had chance to visit is the Atomic bomb museum. In this museum, I can see the cruelty and fierce of the atomic war and how the Japanese got overcome the hurt the lost of the war. And present day how they become one of the world economic powers and affect to the world. I will share all my experience and information which I had got this program (ex: history, traditional cultures...) to my friends and my family to understand a part of Japanese people and this beautiful country. Moreover, my friends and I try our best to become the peace makers to get human and the countries all over the world close, I really appreciate the Jenesys program to give my friends and me this valuable opportunity.

Lao PDR, Student

I would like to say sorry about bombing that I watched in video at NBC company. It was so sad and made tears out of my tears. I think everyone do not want it to happen again, The most impressive was my host family at homestay. I called them Papa and Mama. They were so kind to me. After I return to Laos, I will write a report about this program to my college and ask college to watch the video of bombing at Japan and do everything that I can to advertise about Japan.
