

Provision of Comprehensive Information on Conditions at Fukushima Daiichi NPS through the IAEA

March 19 2014

Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Japan

Provision of Comprehensive information

1. Comprehensive reports on the IAEA website

In addition to the past efforts to share information to the international society, in order to strengthen such effort, the Government of Japan started to provide to the IAEA comprehensive information regarding the events and highlights on the progress related to recovery operations at Fukushima Daiichi Nuclear Power Station (NPS).

2. Reports being provided to the international society

So far, the Government of Japan has provided this comprehensive report for three times. These reports are available in the following site:

- First report (Dec 20, 2013)

<http://www.iaea.org/newscenter/news/2013/recoveryoperations201213.pdf>

- Second report (Feb 17, 2014)

http://www.iaea.org/newscenter/news/2014/infcirc_japan0214.pdf

- Third report (March 8, 2014)

http://www.iaea.org/newscenter/news/2014/infcirc_japan0314.pdf

3. IAEA's assessment

Once provided to the IAEA, this information would be uploaded on the IAEA's webpage together with the IAEA's assessment on the aspects presented in the information. The following is the extract from the IAEA's assessment being uploaded in the website.

- (About marine monitoring) the IAEA considers the public is safe and sees no reason why this should not continue to be the case in the future.
- (About food safety) the food supply chain in Japan is safely under control.

4. Relevant information

The URLs of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs's webpage as well as the webpage of Prime Minister of Japan and His Cabinet regarding this report remain the same as ones provided in the Ministry's last notification.
