Holiness on his election to the Papacy, and at the same time of laying before him the motives which compelled His Majesty's Government, after exhausting every effort in their power to preserve the peace of Europe, to intervene in the present war, and of informing him of their attitude towards the various questions that arise therefrom.

Since the beginning of the war, His Majesty's Government have done all in their power through His Majesty's representatives abroad to remove any misconceptions and misunderstandings from the minds of the Governments of neutral countries as to the course of events which led up to the outbreak of hostilities, and to present, by the circulation of diplomatic documents, the case of the allied Powers to the unbiased judgement of public opinion in these countries.

Such a procedure was not possible in the case of the high authorities of the Roman Catholic Church, owing to the want of a representative of His Majesty at the Vatican.

You will therefore, in presenting your letters of credence to his Holiness and offering him the cordial congratulations of His Majesty the King on the occasion of his election, intimate to him that His Majesty's Government are anxious to put themselves into direct communication with him for the purpose of demonstrating the motives which have governed their attitude since the first moment that the normal relations between the Great Powers of Europe began to be disturbed, and of establishing that His Majesty's Government used every effort to maintain the peace of Europe which his Holiness's venerated predecessor had so much at heart.

You will also be in a position to give his Holiness from time to time exact information of the events which have already occurred and may occur during the period of your mission.

I am, &c.
E. GREY.

Private & Secret

Private telegram from Sir E. Grey.

January 12, 1915.

An impression has been created recently by the German Embassy at Washington that they would welcome the return of peace and would be prepared, in order to attain this end, to evacuate Belgium and compensate her for her losses.

Sir C. Spring Rice has therefore been informed that the following are my personal views on this subject:

That it would be an essential condition of any peace discussions that the integrity and independence of Belgium should be restored, and that she should receive compensation, but that no statements as to the disposition of the German Government which are not directly confirmed from Berlin inspire me with the slightest confidence.

It would also be necessary in our opinion that cause the odium of being opposed to peace to be thrown on us in influential circles in Washington, whilst it is made to appear that Germany is prepared to make concessions.

In addition to the above, you should tell Baron Kato that it would not be my wish to discourage any overture for peace that was genuinely sincere, or that appeared likely to lead to the establishment of a peace of a lasting nature. If evidence were forthcoming that there was a real disposition for peace on the part of Germany, I would be prepared to suggest that the allies should now discuss terms with each other, viz: we with Japan in accordance with Article 2 of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance, and Russia and France with us in accordance with the Alliance concluded on September 5 last. But the information which reaches me through neutral channels with the exception of Washington by no means indicates the existence of a peaceful disposition in Official circles in Berlin, and as long as the contrary is the case the prosecution of the war with the utmost vigour is the only subject which can be we should have a continental peace under such conditions as will secure our allies and ourselves from the chance of future aggression on the part of Germany. We should also have to ascertain what conditions would be required by our allies with whom we have not yet discussed the matter, as we have not received any sufficient evidence that a genuine desire for peace is entertained by Germany. When the time comes, we shall be bound to discuss the terms of peace with our allies.

I have indicated to Sir C. Spring Rice that the above is for his guidance.

Please convey this information privately to the Minister for Foreign Affairs in the strictest confidence, and add that I should be very glad to learn his views at any time as to what he considers would be the right line to take in the event of serious approaches being made to us. At the present moment I do not attach importance to impressions of this sort which emanate from the German Embassy at Washington. It is possible that their intention is to prepare the way for floating a German loan in the United States, or else to profitably discussed.

手交ノ覚書

With reference to the private telegram from Sir Edward Grey of January 12th which His Excellency the British Ambassador was good enough to communicate to Baron Kato on January 13th, he wishes to express his sincere thanks to the Foreign Secretary for the valuable information therein contained. Baron Kato shares in general the views expressed in the telegram and does not attach importance to the impressions created by the German Embassy at Washington that Germany would welcome return of peace. If at any time, however, evidence were forthcoming that there was a real disposition for peace on the part of Germany and in the opinion of Allies the moment had arrived for discussing the terms of peace, the Imperial Government would be ready to consider those terms with the British Government.
