What remains in my heart since I came to Japan is that the Japanese people have strong courtesy and respect for fellow Japanese and people from other countries. It was also very well-ordered in terms of hygiene, and three kinds of garbage bins for sorting rubbish were placed everywhere. Tap water was also very clean and hygienic. The latest technologies were being utilized. And the speed of recovery from the disasters is spectacular; for example, Fukushima that we visited was severely damaged by the earthquake and tsunami seven years ago, but now it is very beautiful and there is a well-established football ground.

Student (Thailand)

I joined the JENESYS 2018 Japan-Mekong Sports Exchange this time and I gained a lot of experience and knowledge. Japan is a developed and very beautiful country. Fukushima, which was devastated seven years ago, seems to be recovering as well. I was proud to be able to play football in such a meaningful place. This time, we experienced many matches. Among them, I was touched by the play of Shoshi High School, Shonan Bellmare, and the Japanese national team. They were very disciplined and were playing seriously with great mental strength. Besides, they were respectful of their coach and head manager, and teammates trusted each other. I was convinced that such wonderful play was possible because of that. By learning from them, I felt that I would also like to try my best to improve the Thai team.

Student (Vietnam)

I had images of Japan that there are many volcanoes and disasters while having many advanced technologies and being a clean and beautiful country. After visiting Japan and experiencing a lot of things, I further noticed that "cars go on the left side, there are many large public baths, it is convenient like a paradise, as technologies are introduced in toilets, and garbage is sorted out." And I also noticed that the Japanese people are cooperative, friendly, and in particular, constantly focusing on their work seriously. After returning home, I would like to make a habit to be punctual which I learned in Japan and to have a sense of responsibility in my daily life and work. I sincerely express my gratitude to the Japanese government and those who have taken care of me for providing me with the opportunity to participate in this meaningful program.

Student (Myanmar)

I had a lot of good experiences in the JENESYS2018 program and football matches. I was able to actually experience high levels of Japan such as food, life, and traditional culture. I felt that sports in Japan are at a global level and that science and technology are very advanced. Actually, I played with Japanese teams and felt the high level of their play. Also, I heard that it is possible for us to play in the J-League. I will try my best to be able to become active in the J-League someday.

Student (Lao PDR)

Through my visit to Japan this time, I was impressed by the following. Cool climate, culture, good manners of the Japanese people, cutting-edge technologies: modern toilets, clean bedrooms in which rubbish is being separated, etc. Japan is economically developed and blessed with the bounty of nature, and there are plenty of trees and greens. The transportation system is convenient and everyone keeps order and rules. It seems that they use time efficiently as they work in a planned manner. The Japanese people are faithful, they have good manners, and everyone is handsome/beautiful. The accommodations at J-Village (a national football training center) are clean and beautiful, and a special place. Is also a place where the Argentina national team stayed during the 2002 FIFA World Cup, and it has a pitch with international standard. I thank the JENESYS2018 for providing me with such a chance. After returning home, I would like to make use of these experiences to improve my football skills and to let people in Laos maintain order, manners, and cleanliness.

Team Leader (Lao PDR)

I was moved because the lecture on sports and culture in Japan was easy to understand. Also, I was glad that they addressed each country's players to make efforts to play football in Japan, which really encourages the players. The Lao team was able to play with the team of Shoshi High School of Japan, and I was deeply moved that I was able to watch the play of those good high school football players who have good patience. From my experience of taking a player to the hospital, I was deeply moved by the excellent service of a Japanese hospital, good response of doctors to patients, cleanliness inside the hospital, and so on.

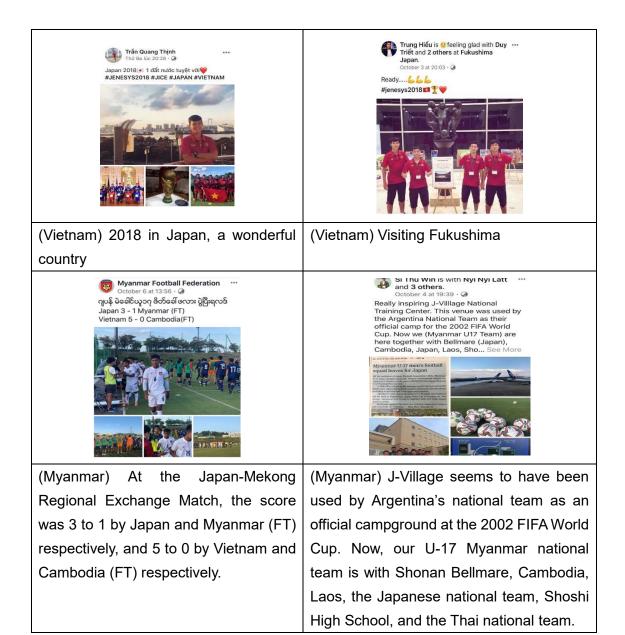

Student (Thailand)

I was moved by the discipline in Japan and Japanese football. The Japanese people are very disciplined both on and off the football field. They help each other with good teamwork and are self-managed as professionals. It is quite obvious that this is very different from my country. I love the playing style of Japanese football. They have a clear direction. I was studying in Thailand by watching the play of Japanese J.League teams. They play quickly at a very high level. They help each other and cooperate to play. And the important thing is to "bravely play against tall and sturdy foreign players without flinching." I played football in Japan this time and learned that the level of football in Japan is very high. Not only the higher-ranking players on the national team but also the lower-ranking players have excellent abilities, and even the Japanese high school football club is a very skilled, wonderful team. They are good at breaking through a small space and they play with teamwork. They are good at trapping the ball first and they can shoot with great accuracy. I learned the high quality of Japanese football. After returning home, I will train harder than before, keep practicing, and spend a disciplined life, and I would surely like to play in the J.League someday.

6. Action Plan Presented by Participants at the Reporting Session

[Cambodia] After returning home, we will carry out the project "sharing our experiences in Japan."

 On November 4, we will hold seminars and share our experiences in Japan by using videos and photographs to encourage all players of the football academy, which we belong to, in order to let them better understand our experiences and strengthen the football world.

[Thailand] After returning home, we would like to contribute to the development of Thai football by carrying out the following things. Specifically, they are as follows.

- \cdot We will practice seriously like a match every time
- We will be strictly punctual and aware of our own responsibility from the preparatory stage.
- We will cooperatively manage football equipment and uniforms for practice and matches
- $m \cdot$ We will respect each other, train our mental strength to do our best in practice and matches, and warn each other when we do the wrong things

 $\boldsymbol{\cdot}$ We will continue to be players and coaches who are appropriate for the Thai national team

• We will draft a code of conduct as players of the Thai national team and formulate this code. After that, we will act in accordance with the code of conduct faithfully under the direction of the coach and staff.

[Vietnam] We will promote the Japanese culture of "punctuality."

• After returning to Vietnam, we will ensure that all participating members arrive 5 to 10 minutes earlier than the starting time for various events that take place in our daily lives and work. This will increase our sense of responsibility towards ourselves and society, leading to further growth of ourselves and society.

[Myanmar] We will implement a project called "Fellowship/Bonds/Friendship." Specifically, the outcomes/experiences of the program will be transmitted by Facebook, publications, and Instagram in order to facilitate teams being more friendly to each other and deepening their friendships and to clarify that there is only one language in football.

[Lao PDR] We would like people in Laos to know more about Japanese culture and personality, so we will share our experiences in this program via group Facebook with the school to which we belong and friends of the Laotian football center, etc.
