

TICAD 30th Anniversary What has really changed?

RESULTS Japan/ Yuko Nagasaka

2023/8/26

1. Kangemi (Oldest slum in Nairobi)

2. School in Kangemi

Informal School

Public School

3. Kangemi Health Centre

- Public Health Center (Level 3).
- Free of charge (private hospitals in the area charge 5,000 KES per visit).
- After COVID-19: All public health centers closed when the first case was confirmed in Kenya. This is because of the lack of sanitation to prevent COVID-19. I worked with Nairobi County to secure the number of protective clothing and reopened one month later on April 9, 2020.

4. Advocacy for combatting TB

- Help local health centers to improve the quality of service.
- Train 200 CHVs. Doubled the effectiveness of TB Surveillance.
- Negotiated with the Ministry of Health, MoH included Eiken Chemical's diagnostic equipment, TB-LAMP in the National TB Strategy.
- TB-LAMP is expanded by MoH, especially in remote areas.

5. School Feeding Program

- Proposed the importance of school meals to the Ministry of Education, the Ministry of Health, and Nairobi County.
- Provided school meals in slum areas with friends voluntarily.
- In Nairobi County, a school lunch program was launched under the initiative of Governor Sakaja Johnson. Now they are making a Giga kitchen (below photos).
- Pupils can provide school lunches for 5 KES (5 JPY) every day.

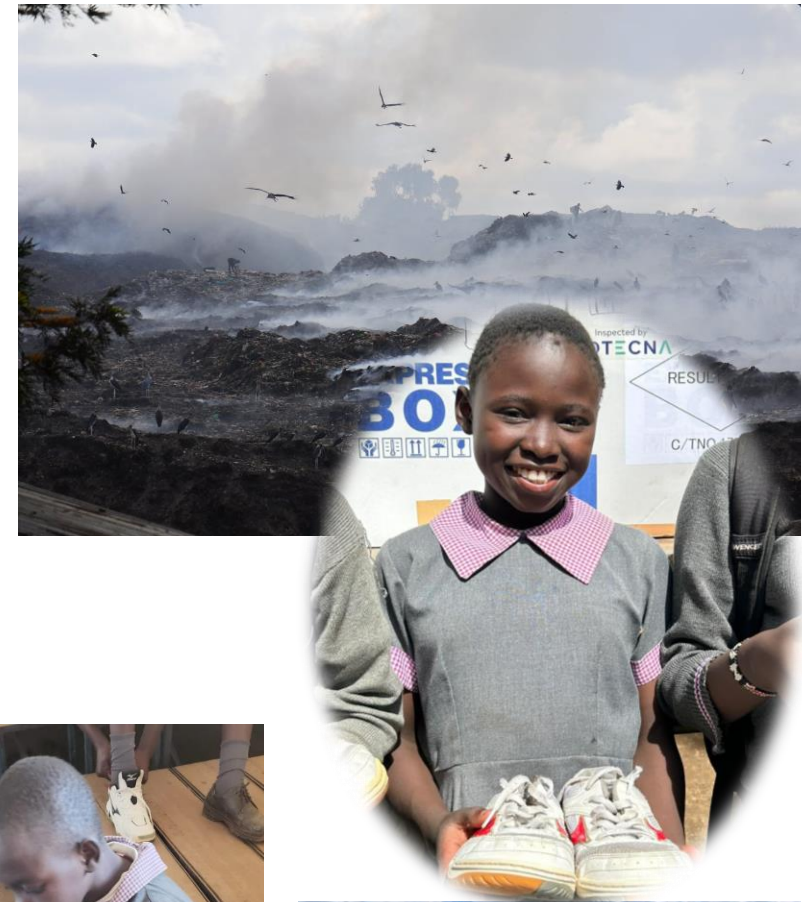

Beans stew

6. Help poorest children

- The poorest of the poor in Kenya.
- Street children: They live by selling garbage that comes from all over Nairobi. 100 to 200 KES a day is all they earn to buy drugs.
- The circle of poverty: people cannot go to school → cannot get regular jobs → cannot afford to go to hospital → more unhealthy...
- In cooperation with Rotary, we donated athletic shoes for the children.

A group of young children, likely in a classroom, are wearing blue school uniforms with pink collars and black face masks. They are all waving their hands towards the camera. The text "Thank you for your attention." is overlaid in white at the top.

Thank you for your attention.