4. Voices from Participants (excerpt)

- I learned that Brazilians staying in Japan are warmly accepted by the local people. There are people who are having trouble speaking Japanese, but it is wonderful that there is a support system in the community.

- At the Overseas Migration Museum, I learned about the history of going overseas from Japan and playing an active role.
- I thought it was wonderful to learn that Hamamatsu is actively preparing for the Deaflympics.
- After exchanging opinions with female ministers and parliamentarians, I thought it was important to create an environment in which women could go out and play an active role in society.
