

JENESYS2024 Malaysia-Japan Marine related Exchange (Invitation Program) Report

1. Program Overview

【Objectives and Overview】 From February 18 to 25, sixteen young Malaysian professionals from media, academic, and marine-related sectors paid a visit to Japan. During their stay in Tokyo and Fukui, they acquired a broad and multifaceted understanding of Japan through both exchanges with experts and stakeholders and on-site visits. These initiatives served to enhance their interest in Japan and contributed to the establishment of professional networks between the two countries in their respective fields.

【Participants】 Total: 16 participants (4 young maritime professionals, 3 media representatives, and 9 university representatives from Malaysia)

【Locations】 Tokyo 16, Kanagawa 4, Fukui 16

3. Voices from the Participants (excerpt)

◆ Working Youth (Malaysia)

Japanese cultures reach beyond technology. As impressed as I am with technologies, I am impressed at how Japanese people are meticulous at their jobs, punctual, forgiving and cute at the same time. How I wish I could speak Japanese rather than using online translate service every time, so that I can be closer to them.

◆ Working Youth (Malaysia)

The programme with the Fukui prefecture and community was the most amazing experience I would say because we were able to gain more understanding about Japanese culture, its policies, how Japanese people work and a few other things. Also, as a media practitioner, there was much I learned from the Kyodo News visit too. Thank you.

◆ Working Youth (Malaysia)

One of the most impressive parts of my exchange program was my experience with my host family. They were incredibly helpful, always ensuring that I felt comfortable and welcomed. Their manners and hospitality made a huge difference in my overall experience. I was able to learn a lot about the local culture, and they took the time to share their traditions with me, making me feel like part of their family. This warm connection helped me adjust and enjoy my stay even more, and I will always be grateful for their kindness and support throughout the program.

4. Voices from the Receiving Parties (excerpt)

◆ Lecturer

It was my great pleasure to receive a Media batch from Malaysia. I was so happy to hear that the visitors from Malaysia were satisfied with my lecture. I believe such efforts will support the growth of Friends of Japan in the future and I am more than willing to cooperate with this project again.

◆ Host Family

There were many things that made me anxious, making the three days fly by. Watching everyone play in the snow like children and seeing their smiles during various experiences made us feel happy as well. Out of the 16 participants, we are now in contact with 7 of them through Facebook and Messenger. I hope we can continue to maintain good relationships in the future.

Day 2 at Kyodo News was truly inspiring! Grateful for the insightful and interactive lecture by the Deputy Managing Director. So much to learn and reflect on. Kyodo News, Japan's leading news agency since 1945, continues to set the standard for accurate and timely journalism.

As a member of the media fraternity it is always a pleasure to see how the job is done outside of Malaysia. Many things are similar; and others completely foreign. Kyodo News, an agency that I have held personal dealings with during my coverage of the Kim Jong Nam assassination case, is such a powerhouse in news and to be there in person was an absolute honour. Plenty to take home, more so to digest as I continue in this career. #jenesys_asean #onassignment

Had the opportunity to visit the 3G Kaiyo Maru, a marine scientific research vessel commissioned by the Government of Japan. Its missions are dedicated to the preservation of marine environment and resources, for the understanding of future generations. The level of commitment and discipline in this endeavor is really impressive.

Exploring one of Japan's oldest surviving castles – Maruoka Castle! Built in 1576, this historic gem has withstood the test of time, preserving the legacy of the samurai era. The views from the top are absolutely breathtaking!

THANK YOU

【Learnings from the Program】

◆ Learnings about Japan:

We noticed a lot of similarities and at the same time differences between Japan and Malaysia.

Weather: Malaysia has a rainy and hot season while Japan has 4 seasons.

Architecture: (Homes in) Malaysia largely uses spaces with empty spaces, while Japan separates rooms and compactly uses every space.

Culture: People in Malaysia are flexible with time and are casual in formal settings, while Japan is very punctual and respectful, especially to people with seniority, using polite/formal Japanese instead of casual Japanese.

Food: Malaysia uses many spices and has strong flavors, while Japan eats healthier dishes with clear flavors.

【Action Plan】

Media: News coverage to disseminate information to the general Malaysian public about Japan and program. Employ Japanese journalistic ethics and standards in everyday reporting duties.

We hope that we can improve visibility of lesser-known prefectures such as Fukui and attract tourists away from more known areas to diversity tourist density.

University: Conducting knowledge sharing sessions in and out of respective departments. Report and write articles. Regular postings to reinforce and strengthen ties made (with Japan). Improve current policies with Japanese work culture. By sharing what we know to those around us, we hope to promote Japan as not only a tourist destination, but also as a location for employment. We also hope that by introducing Japanese culture and ethics, graduates can become more prepared to join the workforce.
